WELCOME!

Every week, my staff prepares a stack of letters that thank nonprofits for their membership to the Center. And each week, I sign those letters with a huge smile on my face. Many of the names I recognize. Many of you are close personal and professional friends.

All of you do amazing work to help Oklahoma’s communities.

The Center is here for nonprofits – whatever you may need, whatever questions you may have – we believe that there is power in unity, and when we work together, we can create lasting change in Oklahoma.

There is great value to being a member of the Oklahoma Center for Nonprofits. First, there are the discounts nonprofits can receive on training, consultation, goods and services, and so much more. But there is value that is incalculable. We fight for the sector through advocacy and public policy. We promote the sector’s assets, its commitment to transparency and excellence, and our partnerships that change and save lives. We provide nonprofits with a network, a support system and a voice. If we don’t have a seat at the table, we bring our own folding chair. The charitable sector is one of our state’s most valuable assets.

We take our role seriously.

Most importantly, we care about the work of nonprofits, philanthropy and all of the women and men who get up each and every day to tackle our toughest problems or provide enriching programs that make Oklahoma thrive.

Thank you for your membership. It means so much. This year, join us in living out the ideal of “doing all the good we can.” Together. As one.

With gratitude,

Marnie Taylor

Standards for Excellence® is a nationally accredited curriculum that teaches best practices for nonprofit management, governance, and legal compliance. The foundation of the Standards for Excellence® program is the published Standards for Excellence®: An Ethics and Accountability Code for the Nonprofit Sector. It identifies 6 major areas of nonprofit governance and management which contain 27 different topic areas. Each topic area includes specific benchmarks and measures that provide a structured approach to building capacity, accountability, and sustainability in your organization.

Standards for Excellence® sessions include: Mission, Strategy and Evaluation; Leadership, Board, Staff and Volunteers; Human Resources and Legal; Finance and Operations; and Resource Development, Public Awareness, Engagement and Advocacy.

In the summer of 2015, the Oklahoma Center for Nonprofits released Standards for Excellence 2.0. The new curriculum includes expanded and enhanced benchmarks, including 80 benchmarks for best practices; new sample policies in social media and information technologies all nonprofits need to know; and improved information on outcome based measurements and logic models to prove mission impact.

In the spring of 2018, OKCNP introduced the Standards for Excellence® Accreditation and Recognition program.

Every participant leaves Standards for Excellence® with an enormous binder of information and resources, as well as a flash drive full of templates and resources for your organization to move to the next level of best practices in nonprofit management.

The materials your organization will receive have a value of more than $800.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

LEADERS’ CIRCLE
Supporting and developing nonprofit leaders

Designed for Executive Directors and CEO’s of nonprofits in their first few years of leadership, Leaders’ Circle is an advisory group that provides a confidential forum to support and develop nonprofit leaders. In monthly sessions, you will be immersed in a supportive community with other non-profit executives for a time of learning, connecting, and discovering. Each session is specifically designed to address multiple facets of being a non-profit leader. You will not only learn principles of leadership but discuss, in a confidential setting, the hard things executive directors face on a day-to-day basis.

This program addresses the biggest challenges faced by nonprofit executive directors: fundraising in challenging times, leadership capacity and support, mission focus and board governance, and talent management.

BOOT CAMP FOR BOARDS

This day-long board summit provides nonprofit boards a collaborative atmosphere to gain insight about board development, governance, and fundraising. All boards will benefit from the “boot camp” atmosphere – it’s ideal for new and evolving boards alike, customized to meet your current needs. Participants will learn insider-tips for board best practices, oversight and management, recruitment, fund raising, and strategic planning. Boards can better serve the community with clear direction and leading by governing.

This summit provides boards with practical knowledge that can be immediately implemented, as well as tools, templates, guides and forms to customize to their organization.

“I really love Boot Camp for Boards and always gain valuable information. It should be a mandatory training for the entire board to gain the benefit of being in a room with multiple organizations.”

THE COMPASS GROUP

The Compass Group is a new course presented by the Center that is intended for seasoned nonprofit executives with 7+ years of experience or having graduated from Leader’s Circle and the Nonprofit Management Certification Program. The course was built on the philosophy that leadership development is an ongoing and never-ending process of self-examination, reflection, feedback, learning and coaching. This network will encourage members to engage in real, authentic and transparent conversations with like-minded leaders, allowing for opportunities to share challenges, discuss advanced leadership topics and fine tune personal leadership philosophies.

The Compass Group is a peer learning group that will foster collaboration, mentorship and advice among members as they navigate the difficult landscape of nonprofit leadership. This course will be a confidential space to process ideas, think creatively, seek solutions, deepen knowledge base and build relationships with colleagues.

NONPROFIT MANAGEMENT CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

Designed for leaders of nonprofits who want to receive practical knowledge on how to run a nonprofit and make a bigger impact in the community, the Nonprofit Management Certification Program helps nonprofit managers develop leadership and supervisory skills to advance their career and be more effective in their current positions. Through training sessions taught by nonprofit experts, participants will have an opportunity to apply and practice new skills and gain confidence in decision making. The program also provides a confidential setting to discuss challenges and network with other community leaders and to establish a setting with potential for networking and rapport, registration is limited.
This two-day conference provides focused attention on core issues for both private foundations and charitable organizations including governance, UBIT, investment, and financial statements.

Sessions will cover new and developing legislation, legal compliance, charitable giving, financial oversight, and Oklahoma policy and advocacy, as well as new trends in cultural competency, cyber security, and more.

The conference features local and regionally recognized experts from private foundations, public charities, law, finance and government to illuminate the latest legal, tax and governance issues affecting nonprofit organizations.

As the perfect overview for new entrants and seasoned practitioners in the field, this conference is designed for lawyers and CPAs who have nonprofit clients, as well as nonprofit executives looking to gain insight into legal and financial best practices. The setting allows for optimal networking among this growing sector.

The 2019 Oklahoma Conference on Nonprofit Law & Finance will be held at the Oklahoma City University School of Law on March 14-15.
THE PARTNERSHIP

This class is a $350 value that is now offered free to members!

Nonprofit management is inherently collaborative, as executives must work hand-in-hand with the board chair to provide the comprehensive leadership a nonprofit requires – for both management and governance of the organization. Each person in this “partnership” was chosen for their unique skills and leadership abilities and they can accomplish great things working together. However, there are many things that can stand in the way of a good partnership – from differences in communication style to unnamed or unmet expectations.

Board chairs and executive directors can expect to:

• Receive practical tools that will ensure their partnership is set up to best serve their organization.
• Understand industry trends of their unique role in the partnership.
• Strategize solutions for challenges typical to the executive director – board chair relationship.
• Identify communication gaps and build more effective channels to achieve success.
• Benefit from micro-consulting opportunities with peers and instructors.

The Partnership is offered regularly to OKCNP member organizations for free to take once per year.

“The decision to turn to the Oklahoma Center for Nonprofits for a training consultant to meet with the board of directors of CASA of Cherokee Country during its annual board retreat was a fortuitous one. We hit the jackpot when we engaged Jerry Wright and OKCNP! He had board members thinking and talking, looking at things in a new light! Our unique financial services combine standard accounting services and advanced technical assistance nonprofit organizations need to implement best practices in financial management. Our experienced team of financial professionals includes accountants, bookkeepers, and outside consultants in financial management and human resources. We are committed to providing efficient, high-quality back-office financial management support and customer service.

We are more than a standard bookkeeping service. We help you create a solid financial management platform that gives you peace of mind in your financial reporting and instills confidence with your board, staff, and funding partners. The Financial Services program operates at a standard rate of $50 per hour.

The precise services we provide each organization vary based on their need, and may fluctuate from month to month depending on any number of factors from additional requests for service, volume of work, and time of year – such as preparing for an audit, or year-end statements.

Some of our more regular services include, but are not limited to:
- Segregation of duties for small to mid-size nonprofit organizations
- Accounts receivable and other receivables
- Reviewing and creating best practices for your chart of accounts
- Establishing protocol for financial processes and practices
- Entering approved and documented transactions into Quickbooks
- Entering deposits into Quickbooks
- Recording and reconciling payroll reports, bank statements, and credit cards
- Preparing GAAP compliant financial statements
- Presenting financial documents to committees and boards
- Providing financial reporting for grants and funders
- Financial policy and practices review and recommendations

The Financial Services team works hard for your organization to ensure that your financial management processes are aligned with best practices!

ADVOCACY AND PUBLIC POLICY

YOUR SEAT AT THE TABLE!

In the world of government relations and legislative affairs, if you’re not at the table, you’re on the menu.

However, Shirley Chisholm wisely said, “if they don’t give you a seat at the table, bring your own folding chair.”

The Oklahoma Center for Nonprofits provides more than a folding chair for the sector. We stand ready to promote legislation and policy that helps the nonprofit sector, our donors and our constituents. More importantly, we fight for the charitable sector’s rights to advocate and lobby for their respective missions, remain truly “tax-exempt,” and promote a fair regulatory environment that prevents undue financial, resource and administrative burdens on the sector.

Moreover, we promote a transparent sector willing to work with the public sector collaboratively to create a better Oklahoma.

The Center employs a contract lobbyist to monitor legislation, and our organization has a standing committee comprising board members, nonprofit professionals and lobbyists and former legislators to provide NONPARTISAN guidance on policy issues that protect and promote the sector.

Past legislative action from OKCNP has saved our sector tens of millions of dollars by promoting tax exemptions on charitable giving (sponsorships and auction items at events), preventing changes to ad valorem tax exemptions for charitable organizations, preventing caps on state deductions for charitable gifts - and so much more.

We also train organizations to advocate for their own missions, hosting free, monthly Advocacy Connection discussions for nonprofits, speaking to boards of directors about the importance of having a strong legislative agenda, and encouraging nonprofits to use their voice through registration and voting, participation in the census and continued communications and relationships with their legislators - federal, state and local!

ADVOCACY IS POWER!

WE FIGHT FOR YOU!
